

Cut out both flower petals. Using a craft knife cut a hole in the center of each flower. Insert a green flexible straw through the hole. This will create a pistil and stem for your flower. See photo below. Using scissors, you can cut the top of the straw into strips to create a frayed look.

